1st Inaugural Alabama CBD\Hemp Expo and Conference Comes to Montgomery; “Growing Our Industry. Growing Our State”.

Montgomery, AL (Nov. 18, 2019) – The first industrial hemp pilot program in the state of Alabama has successfully passed the test and we are in the process of starting our second year under the

Hemp Industries Association (HIA) will be featured as the co-Sponsor of the Alabama’s first hemp expo and conference

CBD\Hemp Expo and Conference this year’s theme is Growing Our Industry. Growing Our State. will feature expanded exhibition space and educational programming, including two full days of business conference and farm symposium, on March 20-21, 2020, in Montgomery, AL. More than 1,000 attendees are expected as industry businesses and thought leaders gather to create a vibrant future for the newly legal hemp market.

As growers, producers and consumers consider a future that looks extremely optimistic after hemp was legalized under the game-changing 2018 Farm Bill, CBD\Hemp Expo and Conference promises to be the most dynamic expo and conference yet.

Since 1994, the Hemp Industries Association® (HIA®) is a non-profit trade association representing more than fifteen-hundred (1,500) supporting, farming and business members. The hemp industries are emerging to become a major global economic force as a result of new applications and opportunities. Hemp is a sustainable choice for industrial products, textiles, and also offer exceptional ingredients and components for nutrition and wellness products. Hemp is one of our planet's most important natural resources, and we advocate for the whole plant.

The HIA stands for the fair and equal treatment of industrial hemp and its opportunities in agriculture and in the marketplace. The Association is dedicated to education, industry development, and the accelerated expansion of hemp world market supply and demand but is focused on the rebirth of the hemp industries in the United States.

Alabama Hemp Growers Association (AHGA), a 501(c)(6) membership-based non-profit trade association, is to advance the hemp economy and educate the market for the benefit of our members, the public, and the planet. Helping to create policies that support our industry & address barriers that prevent growth in our industry. The AHGA wants to make your experience in the hemp industry as profitable and problem-free as possible. Each new business that joins also increases the AHGA's ability to work on behalf of the industry as a whole and to act on behalf of its individual members.

AHGA see it as an opportunity to tell the community at large what we're doing, because 2019 is an important year for us. Our commitment to the hemp industry is strong, and with the Farm Bill, we'll see rapid evolution of hemp's place in the Alabama's economy. We're excited to be one of many stewards in this marketplace and be able to bring together some of the greatest minds in the industry.

The AHGA will create a monthly e-newsletter, covering news, entertainment and trends in the emerging hemp products market to accompany with future plans on developing a podcast featuring industry leaders Rick Trojan, Doug Fine, and many more. To become a member, visit <https://alahemp.org/>.

The CBD\Hemp Expo and Convention will be the first and the largest gathering of hemp industry professionals under one roof, it will feature over 20,000 sq. ft. of exhibition space, 70 exhibitors, a business conference and farm symposium, a global hemp town hall discussion, science and technical workshops, and several networking events and after-parties. The CBD\Hemp Expo and Convention will also be launching a major social media campaign on Facebook, twitter, and Instagram.

We will create the biggest and best platform in the hemp space in Alabama, over the past three years we have networked to bring together national industry experts, thought leaders and organizations as we develop a future for an industry that can truly and meaningfully impact Alabama in a positive way.
